Summary

Hi, I'm Joel, a passionate Frontend Developer with a strong desire to broaden my horizons and evolve into a Fullstack Developer.

I've honed my skills in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, ensuring seamless and responsive user experiences.

I'm on a journey to bridge the gap between the frontend and backend, and I'm committed to acquiring proficiency in technologies like Node.js, Express, and databases to create robust, end-to-end solutions.

My toolbox includes popular frontend frameworks such as React, Angular, and Vue.js, which I leverage to build intuitive and efficient applications. I thrive on solving complex problems and thrive in collaborative environments.

What sets me apart is my dedication to staying up-to-date with the latest industry trends, my relentless pursuit of learning, and my ability to adapt to new challenges swiftly.

Let's connect if you're looking for a Frontend Developer eager to embark on a journey towards becoming a versatile Fullstack Developer. I'm excited to contribute my skills and enthusiasm to your projects.
